NEVADA CITY HAS 22 PER CENT INCREASE IN POPULATION SINCE 1940 ACCORDING TO STATE REPORT

Nevada City has a population of 3,000 according to figures compiled by the state controller and released this week. The figure is based on report furnished the controller by the city clerk. The estimated population represents an increase of 22 per cent over the official 1940 federal census of 2,445. Nevada City is a sixth class municipality.

There are 304 incorporated cities in the state of California, as of Jan. 10, 1949. Nevada City ranks 169th in population. In 1940 there were 285 incorporated cities. Over the state as a whole city population has increased 42 per cent, a figure that is distorted somewhat by the increase in number of municipalities.

Delayed necessary construction, increased availability of supplies, inflationary costs of materials and labor, and the demand for additional services and functions by communities supply the answer to most unusual and sharp increases in the cost of government, according to the controller's report. In the past nine years receipts have increased 146 per cent and payments have increased 132 per cent.

More new bonds were issued in 1948 than for any previous year since the controller started annual reports in 1911. Nevada City showed no bonded indebtedness in 1949. The county had a bonded indebtedness of $330,378.25, of which $289,000 was for school bonds, Grass Valley had outstanding bonds of $4,000.

Valuations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1948, in Nevada City, showed real estate was assessed at $250,725; improvements, $1,067,950; personal property, $313,240; total, $1,631, 915. Property exemptions were $102,350 bringing total property locally assessed to $1,529,565.

State board of equalization assessments were $114,080, bringing total value of property subject to the local tax rate of $1.40 to $1,643,645. General taxes assessed by Nevada City for the fiscal year was $23,011.03, of which $449.40 was delinquent.

Ninety-eight cities in the state turned to city sales taxes while 100 adopted parking meters as additional sources of revenues. Nevada City collected $5,894.78 through parking meters during the fiscal year.

Municipal receipts for Nevada City were $82,928.25. Payments by the city totaled $81,566.09.

HUDSON TRIAL WILL REOPEN IN SUPERIOR COURT THIS MORNING

Superior court will reconvene this morning at 10:30 o'clock for the trial of George A. Hudson, Marysville, charged with grand theft of a 1,000-pound steer belonging to Guy N. Robinson, Indian Springs.

Residents of the Indian Springs area testified Friday seeing a car occupied by two persons alleged to be the Hudson brothers the night the butchered calf was found in the Camp Beale area. None of the testifiers was close enough to the car to positively identify the occupants.

Hudson and his brother, Frank, were arrested later the same night, April 8, in Marysville by the Yuba county sheriff.

Frank Hudson pleaded guilty and is now in San Quentin penitentiary.

SALINAS PRODUCE MAN FILES $26,973 SUIT AGAINST PETERSON

Suit was filed in Nevada county superior court by Sam Martin, Salinas, Monterey county, asking $26,973 damages alleged to have been inflicted May 30, 1948, in Peterson's Corner, North San Juan, by Fred H. Butz, an employee of G. H. and Maude Peterson, owners of the business place.

Martin charges Butz beat him on the head, face and back of neck with a blackjack at the orders of the Petersons. He asks $20,000 physical damages, $6,800 for loss of income for eight months from his produce business and the balance as doctor bills.

3 RAINBOWS WIN PRIZES FOR LOCAL YOUTHS

Using an ordinary rod, and placing a helgramite on his hook, nine-year-old Dale Hornberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hornberger, 524 Nevada street, Nevada City, snagged a 12-inch rainbow trout good enough to win the first prize yesterday in the first annual juvenile fish derby here. The third grade youngster was up at 5 a.m. after his fish.

Dale was presented the first prize of a complete fishing outfit yesterday at 6 p.m., by Max Solaro, chief of police, in city hall.

Donald Lee, 11, fifth grade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lee, 322 Jordan street, won second prize. Donald caught his fish at 6 a.m. yesterday, using worms for bait.

Third prize was awarded to Robert Cullen, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cullen, 315 Broad street. Robert, in the sixth grade, caught his fish at 9:30 a.m., using salmon eggs for bait.

All three boys are enrolled in Nevada City elementary school.

Fishing in Deer creek was not too good yesterday, or the boys did not have much luck. The creek was busy with boys in the morning but the afternoon fishing lagged.

SUMMER ROUNDUP FOR CHILDREN ENTERING SCHOOL STARTS TODAY

The summer round-up, a medical examination sponsored annually by the Parent-Teachers association for the benefit of all children due to enter school in the fall for the first time, will be held in the Nevada City elementary school May 31, June 2, and June 6, between the hours of 8:30 and 10:30 a.m.

Licensed physicians will be on hand to check for heart impairment, defective hearing and vision, lung ailment and throat infection in addition to a number of other physical handicaps which might be an obstacle in the way of a child's being a well adjusted student. In the event a physical handicap is discovered the examining doctors, who donate their time and knowledge, will recommend that the child be cared for by the family physician.

Mrs. Arnold Jackson, president of the Nevada City Elementary School Parent-Teachers association, asks that a parent or guardian accompany each child in order that a medical history of childhood diseases, dates of immunizations and vaccinations may be obtained. The imformation becomes part of the child's permanent school record and is referred to periodically during the child's years as a student.

Mrs. Jackson also requests that the parent or guardian bring with her the child's birth certificate so the child can be registered as a pupil for the fall term. Registration as the time of medical examination relieves the rush and confusion during the opening days of the fall semester and also enables the officials of the school to more quickly estimate the number of new pupils entering school.

Parent - Teachers association members who will assist the school nurse Mrs. Isabel Hefelfinger, and the attending physicians are: today, Mrs. William Perry, Mrs. Leslie Alger and Mrs. John Burson; June 2, Mrs. George Becraft, Mrs. E. G. Bickle and Mrs. J. C. Etter; June 6, Mrs. Ernest Roberts, Mrs. Kent Walker and Mrs. Keif Melberg.

Elementary Patrol Enjoys Coast Game

Nevada City elementary school eighth grade traffic patrol boys were honored recently by their teachers, Bob Bonner, Mrs Alice Thibault, and Principal Lloyd Geist, when they were given a free trip to Sacramento to see a Coast league game between the San Francisco Seals and the Sacramento Solons.

During the game they were treated to hot dogs, pop, ice cream, and peanuts to round out a perfect evening of baseball.

CALIFORNIA'S NEW "MUSCLES"

The 82nd Congress which will convene in January 1951 will find California in better "political condition". Reflecting the great gains in population during the past decade, the Golden State will then have at least 30 representatives in the House as against 23 at present.

This means also that California's electoral vote will zoom from 25 (23 representatives, 2 senators) to 32 and will make the West even more attractive to presidential candidates in '52 than it was last year.

In a study made by the United States News of the shifting balance of political power in the United States it found that from 1910 to 1950 California will have gained 19 seats in Congress, the Atlantic Seaboard States will have lost six seats, The South three, the Border States eight and the Middle West seven. The Mountain States will be one ahead and the other Coast States four higher.

These increased political "muscles" will command greater respect in the Nation's Capital where the West has too long been looked upon as a puny step child. They will be more in keeping with the dominant position California holds in agriculture and its growing prominence in industry.

In time to come it is quite possible that the Far West may be recognized in the East as part of the United States.

DUNKIRK TO OMAHA BEACH

Early June has particular significance in the history of World War II. It marked both the Allied retreat from, and their return to, the North European continent.

In early June 1940 the last remnants of the British and French forces hemmed in at Dunkirk were straggling across the channel. Hitler was sweeping on to Paris. France was finished and the situation for Britain was nothing short of desperate. Although 90 per cent of her troops had succeeded in escaping the German trap, their equipment had been lost and at that moment there were virtually no arms available for the defense of the country.

Four years later, on June 6, 1944, the tide was running in the other direction. With America now in the struggle the great invasion of Hitler's fortress began. Back of this move were at least two years of preparation so vast and so incredibly thorough as to make it unparalleled in military history. And it had to be. Anything less would never have succeeded in gaining a foothold on the continent against the elaborate fortifications built by the Nazis.

The amazing change which took place between June of 1940 and 1944 was a tribute not alone to the military genius and productive capacity of the Allies, but to the indomitable courage of the British who refused to quit even in the face of what seemed certain defeat.

HE SERVED WELL

Some men in public life endure the rough and tumble abuse which goes with almost every post by not taking it to heart. Others find it impossible to throw off the constant criticism leveled at them. They feel it deeply and it causes them great distress. Many of them step down and return to private life. Some, however, through a sense of loyalty to their country, continue on and suffer. James Forrestal, former Secretary of Defense, was one of the latter group. During the last year of the war and in the tense period following it he played a key part in the national defense, first as Secretary of the Navy and later as the head of all branches of military service. His was an exhausting task, and a thankless one, especially in regard to the unification of the services. Forrestal gave his best. When he could carry on no longer he resigned. Few people knew of his condition at that time. But those who knew of it looked for a quick recovery. It didn't turn out that way. To James Forrestal the nation can only whisper a gentle "Thank you" for his services. And some day it may be more fully recognized how valuable those services were.

One person I have to make good: myself. But my duty to my neighbor is much more nearly expressed by saying that I have to make him happy—if I may.

Veterans News

Veteran students who acquire dependents or additional dependents while in training under the GI bill should notify veterans administration as soon as possible, so that VA can determine whether they are eligible for increased subsistence payments.

Notice of change in dependency status should be sent to the VA regional office in which the veterans' records are kept. The notice should be accompanied by legal evidence of dependents, such as a certified copy of public record of birth, baptism or marriage.

Subsistence payments will be increased as of the date legal evidence is received by VA, and will not be made retroactive to the date the veteran actually acquired the dependent.

Monthly subsistence allowances for veterans studying full-time in school are $75 for those without dependents, $105 for those with one dependent, and $120 for those with more than one dependent.

Any veterans whose eligibity for GI bill educations runs out after he completes at least half of a school semester which is normal n cost may complete the remainder of the semester at government expense, veterans administration said.

The veteran also will receive subsistence allowances for the remainder of the semester.

Question: I intend to enter school under the servicemen's readjustment act in January. When should I apply for my certificate of eligibity?

Answer: If you wish to enter training under the G-I bill, you should apply for your certificate of eligibility at least 30 days before the enrollment date.

Question: What assistance can be given me by VA in furthering my claim for compensation when the official records are not available or are incomplete?

Answer: VA contact representatives are authorized by law to aid claimants in the preparation and presentation of claims. Your contact representative will assist you in preparing an affidavit giving complete history of sickness or injury.

Question: I am a World War II veteran and would like to know if a medical examination is necessary before my claim, filed at discharge, can be rated?

Answer: It is not necessary if the service records give sufficient information in your claim filed at discharge, or if a claim is filed within six months after discharge.

Question: Is there a time limit in which I, a World War I veteran, may file a claim for compensation for disability caused by my war service?

Answer: There is no time limit set for filing claim for compensation. However, if a claim for disability compensation is not filed within one year from date of release from active service, compensation may not be awarded for any period prior to date of claim.

GOLD DIGGER'S TRAIL

Charles Scott Haley

Arrived at Brest, we spent most of the day unloading ship, as they had to cast off and be out in midstream by nine o'clock that night. I started my army career in France by disobeying an order of the commanding general of the port, who decreed that all troops should be off the ship by five and on their way out to Pontanezin barracks—ten miles out—under full marching equipment—How he figured we were going to be fed after a hard day's work, I can't imagine. Anyhow when I inquired of the ships officers, they said our dinner would be ready for us at six, as usual, so while the other officers were lining up their troops at five on the docks, I promptly march mine back on the ship again for their meal. This created a little excitement, and I was told I would surely be courtmartialed; but pretty soon the other battallions followed suit, and we had a good meal before starting out on our march at seven. It was as well that we did, for we did not arrive at Pontanezin till midnight, and our men would never have made it without food, soft they were from ten days on shipboard. I never heard any more about courtmartial, but was willing to stand the consequence if I had.

Pontanezin at that time was a slough of mud, and if it had not been that I had most enterprising sergeants in my lot, it would have been tough. Quinliven—my top—came to me and pointed out that over in the French, and prohibited, section, there were thousands of duckboards which were not being used; and our men were sleeping on the ground in wet blankets. I arranged with him to turn my back, and our outfit at least was able to sleep dry, because officially I never knew but what the boards had been presented to us by the French government.

We stayed at Pontanezin two weeks, and I got pretty tired of sleeping in the mud myself. But one day we received orders, and warched into Brest with a detachment of colored boys to help unload another convoy. After the day's work was done, we were waiting in the rain for trucks to take us back to Pontanezin, and I put my men for shelter under a huge shed, and let them lie down and rest. A main power line just inside commenced to sparkle, and soon broke from a short. The sputtering cable came down in front of the men and a wild stampede ensued, with the men in the front rows leaping over and trampling on those in the rear. This was an excellent chance to point a lesson, and as soon as I had the colored boys under control, I pointed out at some length that shells were a lot more discomforting than power lines, and that a panic of this sort was a disgrace to the uniform. I made them stand at attention in the rain for twenty minutes till the trucks arrived—and from that time on I never had any more disciplinary truobles.

Orders finally came to move on, and we entrained for Nevers, where our boys were to be used in building a 40,000 bed hospital at Saint Parize, and I left them there for special duty.

Some thirty days after this, I was among those gassed in a training sector, and had to return to Saint Parize. By this time, the work on some six two thousand bed units was completed, and they were functioning. I was in hospital for several days, and when I came out, was assigned to light duty in taking charge of the quarries. We had to quarry all foundations out of limestone, and then finish off with pine lumber from Switzerland and northern France. The rock was hauled to its place of use by light locomotives on movable narrow gauge track. After about three weeks of this, Colonel Buchanan, who commanded the section, asked me to go to Mesves hospital—thirty miles north—and straighten out the quarry situation there. My former commanding officer, Major Lansley, was temporarily in charge there, with most of my friends from Camp Humphreys.

The quarry situation there was very simply straightened out, and I increased the output satisfactorily and turned back about half the rolling stock to the Service of Supply, although we were turning out a hundred percent more rock. As a result of this, the Section Engineer came up to Mesves to see me.

"What do you know about building construction, Captain?"

"Well—I built a doghouse once, Colonel, but it was for a very small dog."

"That's fine—I think you'll do. Go down and take over the hospital construction at Saint Parize. Will give you your authority at Nevers."

And so I, who had never built anything, and cannot build anything today, became Engineer in Charge of Construction of a four million dollar job, including a forty thousand bed hospital, a five mile water line and pumping station, and a railroad and sewage plant. This was very interesting work, and eventually earned me my promotion—but I had nothing to do with it. Letting men work who knew how to work and keeping them supplied with material, was all that was necessary.

I found a rather motley assemblage of workmen. About fifteen hundred French, an equal number of Spanish, some two or three hundred mixed Russian, Portuguese and Italians. About six hundred Annamites, French colonials who were rented out to us by the French Government at a dollar and a half a day, although their pay was six cents per day and rice. Also, a hundred or two north Chinese—tall, fierce Mongolians who took orders from none but their own leaders. And about a thousand U. S. troops, of which two battalions were colored and the others white.

Noon luncheon ws served by the Methodist ladies. Mrs. Harriet Farmer, Mrs. Carol Rogers, and Mrs. Belle Brock did the table decorations using centennial gold for the theme, metal vases for yellow flowers. Miniature metal figures of miners in a natural setting of miniature rocks and gold nugget pebbles were used to create 49er atmosphere.

The afternoon session began at 2 o'clock with committee reports. A report of the state convention in May at Long Beach was given by the outgoing president, Mrs. Swanson. Piano solos by Mrs. Mabel Kechley, of Grass Valley, were greatly appreciated before the installation ceremony of the new Tri-County officers for the coming year.

Installing officers were Mrs. A. Moulton Swanson, and Mrs. C. H. Preston of Roseville, and Mrs. George Gildersleeve of Nevada City.

Officers installed were: Mrs. Byron Brock, Nevada City, president; Mrs. Lois Neigle, cool, first vice president; Mrs. E. Harold, Lincoln, second vice president; Mrs. Beatrice Butcher, Nevada City, secretary; Mrs. Marguerite Webb, Loomis, treasurer; Mrs. S. W. Laird, Loomis, auditor.

Community singing, enjoyed by all, was led by Mrs. George Raddue Sr., music director for the Nevada City Women's Civic club.

Peggy Mlinarich New Pocahontas, Ponemah

Peggy Mlinarich was elected Pocahontas of Ponemah Council No. 6, Daughters of Pocahontas Wednesday evening in the Odd Fellows hall. The meeting was featured by the official visit of Marie Freyer, Great Pocahontas of the Reservation of California.

The evening opened with a social hour and dinner at the National hotel.

Other prominent state officials of the organization visiting the local council included Past Great Pocahontas Olive Harrington, Roseville; Great Keeper of the Records Belle Parkington; Great First Scout Hilda Edward, Roseville; Great District Zone Chief Amelia Carlisle, Auburn; Great District Zone Chief Madge Cook, Florin. Nine councils of the state were represented. Wyoming Tribe No. 49, Order of Redmen, was represented also.

The local council drill team adopted a class of four palefaces. Escort team members completed their dress with pokebonnets and the men added top hats and canes.

Other officers elected for the host council were Ruth Wiley, Prophetess; Annabelle Brake, Wenonah; Lee Lester, Powhatan; Phyllis Bluxome, Keeper of the Records; Blanche Williams, Collector of Wampum; Lila Day, Keeper of Wampum; Edith Solenberg, musician.

The hall was decorated with roses, and the refreshment tables were decorated in Pocahontas colors of green and pink with maypoles and quaint paper dolls.

Peggy Mlinarich, Phyllis Bluxome, Goldie Anderson, Ruth Wiley and Hilda Branson.

ELECTRIC SERVICE IN THIS AREA SHOULD BE IMPROVED SAYS PG&E

Electric service in the Grass Valley-Nevada City area will be greatly improved as a result of new facilities which are in service this week, according to James R. Johnson of Auburn, division manager of Pacific Gas and Electric company. The work represents an investment if $300,000, Johnson said.

At Grass Valley substation four modern transformers have been installed in place of the former equipment. These convert incoming 60,000-volt power to 4000 volts for local distribution.

The existing 60,000-volt switching facilities have been rearranged and two modern high capacity oil circuit breakers and related switchgear have been installed for better service. Automatic equipment has been installed to restore service promptly in case monetary trouble causes an interruption of power on the line.

New remote alarm equipment will flash indication of any trouble at the substation to Wise powerhouse near Auburn.

Voltage conditions on the 12,-000-volt distribution circuits from Grass Valley substation will be improved by a new voltage regulator. An additional oil circuit breaker was installed to reduce the possibility of several lines being taken out of service simultaneously by trouble affecting one.

Service to Nevada City has been improved by increasing the voltage from 4000 to 12,000 volts. This was done by conversion of the distribution feeder line from Grass Valley substation to the higher voltage over the distance between Glenwood road and Nevada City substation. In connection with this change a bank of four transformers was installed at Nevada City substation.

Distribution lines from Nevada City substation to three outlying areas also have been increased from 4,000 to 12,000 volts to give better service to the growing load. The three areas are along the Tahoe-Ukiah highway on the north, in Willow Valley and at the east ends of Boulder and Park streets.

Another improvement is the provision of an auxiliary 12,000-volt supply line to Nevada City, in addition to that directly from Grass Valley, through a connection with the Indian Flat 12,000-volt circuit at a point north of the new Downieville highway. This second source of power will help to minimize service interruptions due to storms or other causes.

TAMO PITCHES 4-HIT WIN FOR NEVADA CITY

Paul Tamo, on the mound for Nevada City yesterday, was in good form as he whipped and curved his selection of pitches past the Auburn Cubs batters yesterday afternoon at Pioneer park for a 4-0 four-hit shutout. He disposed of the opposition in a matter of one hour and 29 minutes.

Tamo struck out seven and walked two and was never in trouble. West tried to steal third and that was as far as a Cub got all afternoon.

The first three men up for the home team scored and Kosinski added another in the third. The rest of the game was a string of goose eggs.

Pat Hurley, pitching for Auburn, also turned in a competent job on the mound, striking out three and not issuing a walk.

Kosinski, with two doubles, got the only long hits of the game. Nevada City served two double plays. Haddy to Goldsberry to Childers in the fourth and Haddy to Childers in the seventh.

Jones got a single when his grounder took a hop over Lardner's head into left field. Childers was safe when his daisy cutter went through Lemos' legs, Jones scoring, Thompson singled Childers home. Kosinski doubled. Thompson scored on Goldsberry's grounder to West. In the third Kosinski doubled and came home on Perry's ground-out to Lardner.

After that every one on both sides just took their turns at the bat to play one of the shortest nine-inning games of the Placer-Nevada league this year.

Truckee will play here next Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

COL. SNELL SAYS PW GERMANS WOULD LIKE TO RETURN TO U.S.A.

Many German soldiers who were prisoners of war in camps in this country became friendly and expressed a desire to return to this country, according to Verne C. Snell, Grass Valley, who was a colonel assigned to the Florence, Ariz., prisoner of war camp during the last war.

Snell addressed the Nevada City Rotary club at its regular meeting Thursday in Deer Creek inn.

Ridge Schools Enjoy Play Day Activities

Students of elementary schools of North San Juan, Cherokee and Birchville participated in an all-day play day at the North San Juan school playground. David Dalke, rural schools superintendent, was play day coordinator assisted by Robert Robinson, Mary Joan Campbell, Cherokee school; Patrick Conway, John Conway, North San Juan school, and Jean Estes, Birchville school.

Ribbons for first, second and third places were awarded in foot races, hobble races, wheelbarrow race and baseball throw. Lois Butz umpired a softball game to close the day.

W. P. Fleming, McCourtney road rancher near Grass Valley killed a 3½- foot coal black snake identified as a water moccasin.

HADDY PROTEST WOLF & ROYER TILT SATURDAY

Marvin Haddy, manager of the Nevada City representative in the Placer-Nevada league, protested interference on the part of Neves, umpire, in the second inning of the Saturday night game in Roseville and the local entry played the rest of the game under protest. Final score was 21-6 in favor of Roseville.

The Wolf & Royer sluggers combed "Babe" Perry for 13 hits during the six innings he pitched, and gathered two more off Moreno, relief hurler.

The local boys scored more runs against Wolf & Royer than any other team so far this season but were unable to prevent the Roseville men from scoring.

Playing under the lights for the first time added to the disadvantage to the local team caused by being shorthanded and having but nine men in uniform at game time.

Clark, the first batter flied to Kosinski in right but the big fielder misjudged the ball and Clark had a triple. Carbone and Jensen walked. In a hole Perry bore down and McNulty fouled out. Disen forced Jensen at second while Clark scored. Moreno dropped Truscott's fly and Carbone scored. Moreno recovered the ball, whipped it in and Disen was out trying to score on the error play. Roseville had a 2-0 lead.

In the second Roberts was safe on Goldsberry's bad throw and Hartman singled him home. Clark singled and Jensen doubled home Hartman. Perry hit McNulty to load the bags. Disen was called safe at first on a close play by Umpire Errecart. Attempting to nip Jensen at third Childer's throw to third was wide and it was at that point Neves was in Goldsberry's way trying to field the ball. The bases were cleaned and Roseville was ahead 8-0.

Haddy immediately protested and the rest of the game was played under protest.

After that the game degenerated into a brawl between players, predominantly Nevada City, and umpires with Umpire Gallagher taking plenty of abuse from both teams on the caliber of his strike and ball calling.

Roseville had six earned runs to thre for Nevada City.

GRASS VALLEY WHIPS NC IN FOOTHILL GAME

Three hits, three errors and three passes to first accounted for six runs in the top half of the tenth inning for Grass Valley Wildcats as they whipped Nevada City Merchants 10-5 in the opening game of the Foothill League here Sunday afternoon.

A heavy downpour that lasted about three minutes delayed the game and the match was played in intermittent showers and sunshine.

Jim Trathen and Bob Radley went the route for both teams, each allowing eight hits. Trathen struck out 14 while Radley whiffed 6.

The game rolled along scorelessly until Radley doubled in the fifth and scored on Tittle's error of Tobiassen's fly. Grass Valley made it 4-1 in the sixth on three hits, one walk and an error.

The Merchants promptly tied it up with three successive hits and an error in their half of the sixth. Hill and Coley singled and Ralph Childers tripled. Childers scored on a fielder's choice.

Trathen opened the tenth with a double. At that point the Nevada City defense crumbled and six runs came in before Trathen grounded out to end the inning.

Nevada City gained a run in the tenth after Cartoscelli was hit and came in on Radley's second double. Wojack grounded out to end the game.

TRUSTEES OKAY COUNTY UNION HIGH SCHOOL

Nevada county school survey committee passed a resolution Wednesday night recommending legislation be passed by the present legislature enabling formation of a Western Nevada county union high school. The meeting was held at Union Hill elementary school.

Attending the meeting was S. S. Mayo, regional survey director of the state department of education.

Members of the committee gathering at the meeting were Mrs. Lowell Elster, Clear Creek school trustee; Robert Hanley, Oakland; John Martin, Grass Valley; Howard Penrose, Nevada City, and Melvin Gelhaus, Chicago Park.

The committee will confer with Alfred Lentz, administrative advisor of the state department of education, in Sacramento this afternoon, to draft the necessary bill.

Hanley motioned the following resolution which was passed:

1. That all present elementary school districts, including the present Nevada City school district, retain their identity as elementary school districts.

2. That the present two high schools, Nevada City and Grass Valley, be combined to operate as one high school until such time as land and buildings may be secured for an entirely new (Western Nevada county) high school, thereby releasing more space for overcrowded elementary schools.

3. Members of the committee pointed out at the meeting rural schools would be compelled to join an existing high school district if assembly bill 972, now before the legislature, becomes law.

Additional elementary and secondary school facilities are needed in Nevada county, according to the consensus of the gathering.

At a special election held more than two years ago, a proposal to unify the entire western area of the county was defeated 2-1.

BACCALAUREATE WILL BE HELD ON SUNDAY

Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at high school auditorium. Fifty-five seniors of the 1949 graduating class of Nevada City high school will attend the services.

The Rev. Dahlgren Casey, pastor of the Nevada City Methodist church, will give the invocation.

Franc Luschen will present a cello solo of Gounod's "Ave Maria."

Baccalaureate address will be delivered by the Rev. Max Christensen, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church.

Luschen will give as a closing selection Von Biene's "Melody."

Rev. Casey giving the benediction will close the program.

Commencement exercises will be held Thursday evening in the high school auditorium.

KEITH MACDONALD IS NEW LIONS CLUB HEAD

Keith Macdonald, Tahoe national forest service, was elected president of the Nevada City Lions club Wednesday evening to serve during the 1949-50 term. He will succeed Dr. C. N. Kerrin.

Other officers elected were Cliff Jacobson, first vice-president; Lew Moran, second vice-president; William Gibson, secretary; Allen Clapp, treasurer; Charles Hilpert, lion tamer; George Campbell, tail twister; Walt Russell and Milt Anderson, directors.

They will be installed Wednesday evening at a ladies' night dinner at Deer Creek inn.

Allegheny Man Smells Gas, Lights Match And Out Blew the Walls

Roy Rhuski suffered shock and severe burns about the hands, face and head when a gas stove exploded in his Community hall apartment, blowing out two sides of the apartment. Rhuski said the stove had been defective for some time. Upon entering the apartment he smelled gas, opened a door and window, and lit a match.

Bear Valley Grade To Be Realigned

Bear Valley grade, infamous stretch of road on state highway 20 near where it junctions with U. S. highway 40, will be eliminated this summer, according to an announcement late yesterday afternoon by Guerdon Ellis, supervisor of Tahoe national forest.

Ellis said bids are being advertised by the U. S. public roads administration and will be opened in San Francisco June 21 for 3.7 miles of new highway on section A, Harmony ridge forest highway. Construction will be financed from U. S. forest service highway funds.

The new road will have a maximum seven per cent grade and a minimum curvature of 400 feet.

TELEPHONES UP 25 PER CENT IN NEVADA CITY

Telephone outlets in Nevada City total 1,328, according to E. R. Ingalls, manager of the local telephone exchange, in conjunction with the delivery of new telephone directories now being made here. This represents an increase of 25 per cent over the 1,063 telephones listed in September, 1948, when the previous phone book was released.

The new green-covered book contains more than 42,000 alphabetical listings, an increase of 3,900 over the present issue.

About 49,000 copies will be delivered in the eleven counties covered by this directory.

Ingalls requested that the old directory be destroyed when the new one arrives. He also said that any customer not receiving a copy by the end of the week to call the business office and one will be furnished immediately.

Nevada City Couple Buy Indian Valley Station Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie E. Gates, Nevada City, have purchased the Indian Valley service station, on the Downieville highway, and took possession Wednesday.

Sierra Man Lands Six-Pound Trout

Max Stark, Downieville, landed a six-pound brown trout from the Yuba River at Shangri-La, just west of Downieville on opening day. Stark needed 25 minutes to land the fish.

NEVADA COUNTY WARNED ABOUT SPOTTED FEVER

Residents and vacationists in Nevada county are warned by the California department of public health to learn the symptoms of Rocky mountain spotted fever: fever, chills, headache, sensitivity to light, and pains in the jaw and muscles.

The department cautions those who enter the forests of Nevada, Lassen, Modoc, Placer, Plumas, Sierra and Siskiyou counties.

Dr. Walter Padgett, county health officer, stated yesterday there has never been a reported case of spotted fever in Nevada county, and does not know on what basis beyond precautionary reason, the state department has issued its warning. One fatality in Plumas county two years ago is the nearest incidence of the disease.

Rocky mountain spotted fever is caused by rickettsia rickettsii, the vector being the common tick.

Vaccine for immunization against spotted fever exists, and is recommended for persons who are employed in the forests or are otherwise constantly exposed to the insects.

Aureomycin and chloromycetin, new drugs on the market, have indicated excellent relief powers, but treatment by the new preparations must be started immediately.

Dr. L. Anigstein, working with a highly virulent strain of rickettsiae found a very high survival rate, when treated with aureomycin.

All forest personnel of Tahoe national forest have been immunized, a program that has been done for three years.

18 ACTS SET FOR BENEFIT SHOW TONIGHT

Eighteen acts will sparkle the baseball benefit show tonight at 8 p.m., in the high school auditorium, under the direction of Frank Stewart, assisted by Chet Murchel. Receipts of the show will be used to purchase the new uniforms being used by the merchants team of the Foothill league. The show is being sponsored by the Nevada City Athletic club.

Dancing to the music of the Nevada City high school band under the baton of Willard Goerz will follow the show and continue to midnight.

The program, as announced this morning by Stewart:

2,084 AWARDS OPEN AT SEVENTH ANNUAL NEVADA COUNTY FAIR ON AUGUST 25-28; 54 CHAMPIONS

Two thousand eighty-four awards, 54 championship awards, one grand champion in dairy cattle, and between $10,000 and $15,000 in prize money will be open for competition by exhibitors at the seventh annual Nevada County Fair, scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 25 through Sunday, Aug. 28, according to an announcement today by Loyle Freeman, manager of the 17th District Agricultural association.

Freeman said this year's fair will have many improvements. The flower show is expected to show a 50 per cent increase in exhibitions and interest. R. R. Franceschi, Sacramento architect, who is drawing up a master plan for the fair grounds at Watt Park, Grass Valley, expects to have it completed and ready for display to the association directors the latter part of this month.

Freeman also said the association has hopes of having the fair grounds site fenced by the time the fair opens this year, but there will be no possibility of having permanent buildings started. Present plans indicate they will be started this winter.

General admission to the fair this year will remain at 50 cents for adults, 10 cents for children, with the same rates prevailing for the horse show.

There will be two major divisions to the fair, a senior exhibition and a 4-H division.

Departments in the senior group will include beef cattle, dairy cattle, horse show, community exhibits, one family farm, agricultural, horticultural, floricultural, home economics, lumbering, and minerals and mining.

The 4-H club division will feature beef and dairy cattle, swine, sheep, goats, agricultural, horticultural, home economics, poultry, rabbit, feature booth exhibits and showmanship.

Champion and reserve champion ribbons, and 70 premiums will be awarded in Aberdeen-Angus class of beef cattle with a like number of awards available in the Hereford class.

Grand champion in all classes of dairy cattle will be presented in addition to four champions and 20 premiums in each of Brown Swiss, Guernsey and Milking Shorthorn classes. In addition all dairy cows meeting specified minimum butterfat production will receive an additional premium.

Five prizes in each of nine sections of the horse show will be competed for by stock and trail horses, and ponies.

Ranging from a first prize of $275 to a 10th prize of $75 feature exhibits will be limited to communities and organizations which display agricultural and horticultural booths.

Five prizes will go to the one family farm feature.

Three ribbons will be awarded in 39 sections of the agricultural department. Three sweepstakes will be presented in each of plant vegetables and root vegetables.

Three ribbons and prizes will go to winners of 46 sections of the horticultural department. Three sweepstakes will also be presented in the plate and standard package displays of deciduous fruits division.

The floriculture department has been expanded to 88 sections with three ribbons and prizes to be awarded in each section. The exhibits in this department must have been grown by the exhibitor within the district represented. A special class of this department this year will be a feature exhibit, 18x24 inches maximum, representing the gold discovery theme, using cut flowers, growing plants and accessories if desired.

Canned and preserved foods prepared by the exhibitors will compete in 77 sections. There are three premiums in each section and three sweepstakes.

Entries in the lumber and lumber products department are limited to Nevada, Plumas, Butte, Yuba, Sierra, Placer, El Dorado, Amador, Calaveras, Tuolumne Mariposa, Madera, and Fresno counties. There are three awards in each of rock gold, milling ore, gold, and placer gold displays.

Four premiums in each of 17 sections of beef cattle competition will be awarded in the 4-H clubs division. Nine prizes are open in each of 10 sections of 4-H clubs dairy cattle division. Fifteen prizes are open in 4-H Duroc Jersey swine competition. Fat and feeder pigs have four sections with nine prizes each, and a champion fat hog of all breeds.

To be judged strictly on a range sheep basis and limited to Nevada county, nine ribbons will be won in four sections.

Six sections, with four ribbons each, plus a champion and grand champion will go to 4-H club winners in the goat division.

4-H club members will compete in 17 sections of the agriculture department. There are three ribbons to each section.

Strawberries is the only section of the 4-H horticulture department.

4-H club home economics members will compete for three ribbons in each of 26 sections of canned and preserved foods division. Clothing and textile division is divided into 17 divisions with six premiums in each.

Poultry displays call for up to five ribbons in 27 sections. Rabbits have the same number of ribbons for eight sections.

4-H clubs as units will compete for five awards in a club exhibition booth.

Showmanship in the display of animals by 4-H club members will win eight prizes in four classes.

Premium books giving completed details of the fair and exhibitions are available at the offices of the the 17th District Agricultural Association, 115 West Main street, Grass Valley.

Officers besides Freeman are Thomas Mulcahy, president; and Edith Scott, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the board of directors are Joel Bierwagen, C. Edmunds, Thomas Casey, Malcolm Hammill, Walter B. Sanford, Vernon Stoll, Leland S. Smith and Mulcahy.

$39,700 WORTH OF BUILDING IS ISSUED PERMITS

P. G. Scadden Nevada county assessor issued building permits totaling $39,700 this week to bring the value of permits issued since April 1 to $136,300.

Largest permit issued since the county ordinance went into effect in March was to Joe Nita, Oakland contractor, who has started construction on a $20,000 steel commercial building in Hills Flat, Grass Valley, that will house the new Oldsmobile agency.

Ed Nygard, Grass Valley, was issued a permit to build a frame 27x64 building on the Nevada City-Grass Valley highway to house the California highway patrol offices. It will be valued at $11,000.

Thomas F. Doherty, contractor, Kings Beach, was issued a license to build a 16x10 garage and 26x12 sacristy for the Catholic church, Kings Beach. Estimated cost is $1,200.

Grass Valley Sportsmen's club was granted a permit to build a $6,000 frame club house on Snow Mountain ditch near Scotts Flat dam. H. J. Crawford, Grass Valley is contractor.

E. A. Bailey, Nevada City, was given a permit to construct a $500 addition to his home on Banner road.

Walter W. Lyon, Grass Valley, was permitted to start construction of a $1,000 frame home in the Orchard general subdivision, Grass Valley.

Grass Valley Man Asks $2,580.65 For Labor Bill on House

C. M. Peterson filed suit in superior court this week to collect $2,365.65 alleged to be an unpaid labor bill owing him by C. P. Dancer and Eva Dancer, all of Grass Valley.

Peterson charges he built a hiuse for the Dancers in the Panorama tract, north of Grass Valley, and for which only $215 of a $2,580.65 bill has been paid. Albert Johnson, Nevada City, is his attorney.

THE PLACER-NEVADA BASEBALL LEAGUE

Reprinted herewith is a copy of a letter received yesterday by Marvin Haddy, manager of the Nevada City Athletic Club's representative in the Placer-Nevada league.

May 31, 1949

Mr. Marvin E. Haddy,
Nevada City, Calif.
437 Zion Street,

Dear Haddy:

I witnessed the program put on by your club in Roseville last Saturday night. In justice to the other clubs in the league I cannot overlook the actions of several of your players, including yourself. If there was any way in which I could legally fine your club you can rest assured that it would be handed you. You are fortunate, therefore, that you are getting off with this reprimand.

As a director in the league and manager of your club we expect that you could at least make some effort to control your players instead of leading them in their attacks on the umpires. Player Goldsberry has been in this league too long to act the way he did the other night. This won't happen again because the umpires are being instructed to banish Goldsberry from the game the very next time he gets out of line. This goes for player Perry, too, if he is still on the club.

You should have appreciated the fact that you had but nine men available for play and the ejection of any one of them would have been cause for a forfeiture and a resulting penalty of $50.00. Instead of this you took advantage of the situation nd made a farce of the game.

You must remember that fans pay their way to see a ball game and if they want comedy they won't go out to the ball park—at least in the Placer-Nevada league while I have anything to do with it. It's up to you as an official of the league to help us bring up the standard of ball being played and also to maintain some dignity, regardless of the score.

As President of the Placer-Nevada league I was ashamed of Nevada City and their conduct last Saturday night and honestly hope that you realize this fact.

Yours very truly,
CHARLES J. GALLAGHER

In reply to Mr. Gllagher's letter, we would like to ask these questions:

Should the president of a baseball league sit in the stands and heckle the players on any team from the moment the game starts?

Should the umpire calling balls and strikes give a Bronx cheer to a player because he misses a third strike?

Should the president of a league be the arbitrary judge of what constitutes a baseball game and what is a farce? We recall many major league baseball games that ended in scores similar to 21-6.

As president of the league Mr. Gallagher may have been ashamed of Nevada City, but this writer, a witness of the game, cannot share his feelings. When a runner scores from first, an advance of three bases, on an overthrow of third base, an obvious error of judgment on the part of an umpire, the Nevada City players cannot be blamed for disgust at the caliber of officiating exhibited in the Roseville Wolf & Royer-Nevada City game.

WHAT'S GOOD ABOUT TODAY?

When you're in a blue mood and some one says "It's a nice day," and you reply "What's good about it?" or if you're the one who's feeling good and have the wind taken from your sails, think on the words of Ralph Waldo Emerson: "Today is the best day of the year."

Today is the best day of the year. Why waste a moment on the blunders, recriminations and absurdities of yesterday. Finish today and when it's over be done with it. You have done what you could. Why waste a moment on the fears of tomorrow, the apparently hopeless tasks that have to be met? Meet them the best you can—you can do no more.

But don't waste a moment on the nonsense of yesterday and tomorrow. Own today—the best day in the year—don't lose it to fret and anxiety. Living each moment and day as it exists is all you can hope for on earth. The life you have lived is all you'll have when death comes.

WHAT IS SO RARE AS A DAY IN JUNE?

The first two days of June in Nevada City have borne out the statement, or is it a query, of James Russell Lowell.

The climate here in Nevada City the past few days has been the finest we have yet seen. Mild in temperature, a welcome relief from the heat of the central valley or the fog and cold of the coast.

We have been in the Oregon mists, the valley oven, dodged the snows of Canada, and frozen in France, all in the alleged balmy month of June, and they can't compare with this climate.

We are glad we came to Nevada City.

RITA HAYWORTH

Hollywood's curvaceous Rita Hayworth has married her prince, so probably now the clucking tongues of the scandal-mongers can be still until they can pick a new victim. It is a shame to the press that some publications in their zest for sensationalism probe the personal life and morals of an individual. What a person does with his own private life is his own business and should be treated as such.

NEVADA CITY PRIMED FOR TRUCKEE CLUB

Nevada City Athletic club, in undisputed fourth place in the Placer-Nevada baseball league, is primed to play the Truckee Mountaineers in Pioneer park Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, according to Marvin Haddy, manager.

Haddy announced his starting line-up will be the same as the squad that white-washed Auburn Memorial day. Paul Tamo, best pitcher in the league, will be on the mound for the local team, with Ainsley Fouyer catching.

Babe Childers, Haddy, Jake Goldsberry and Tiger Thompson will hold down the infield. The combination executed two double plays last time out.

Stan Jones, Babe Perry and Tony Kosinski will roam the pastures.

Haddy warned the Truckee team is vastly improved in the past few weeks and will be a tough team to whip. The Mountaineers slaughtered Grass Valley Memorial day and Baxter, with a .589 and Bernard with .467 batting averages are leading the league.

"DUKE OF AUBURN" IN AUBURN OVER WEEKEND

"The Duke of Auburn", the big gold show, will have five performances this weekend as Auburn devotes itself to celebrating the days of '49. Final plans have been completed and all who attend are promised a good time.

The opening performance will be this evening following coronation of the queen. There will also be performances tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 and evening at 8:15, and again on Sunday after a parade.

Tickets are $1 for adults and 25 cents for children under 12 and may be purchased at the door before any performance. It will be held in the Agard street gym in Auburn altered to represent the old Empire theater.

"The Duke of Auburn" is an old fashioned melodrama complete with villain, hero and heroine. Audience participation is encouraged such as hissing the villain and cheering exciting parts, so everyone can join in the fun. Olio acts follow the play with singing, dancing, and musical acts.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRESS REPORT

The first session of the 81st congress has now been in progress five months. We will probably run an additional two months so we are approaching the last lap. Without trying to summarize the efforts here on major legislation, a progress report on those bills of particular interest to our district may be in order.

On water legislation: The Folsom dam bill is pending in the senate but it is temporarily stalled due to the fact that the senate committee on interior and insular affairs before which it is pending is bogged down in controversial legislation. It is hoped, though that this bill can be cleared before adjournment. The measure for northern California canal legislation is out of the house committee and headed for the floor. However, it has not as yet been cleared by the bureau of the budget, which is a necessary hurdle to speedy action before the rules committee and on the floor of the house. Both these measures are of importance to the mountain areas largely because of the precedent they set with reference to water legislation. The Folsom dam ties in a small collateral project in El Dorado county establishing a precedent for this type of procedure in other mountain and foothill areas. The canal legislation implements the bureau of reclamation policy and state law granting priority for water use to counties of origin.

ACTION ON MINING BILLS

On mining legislation: The measure introduced to reimburse the gold miners for their losses under L-208 introduced by Senator McCarran and me is pending on the senate calendar. Hearings have been held on a bill also co-authored by Senator McCarran and me to establish a domestic free market for gold, but the committee has taken no action.

A measure providing for incentive payments for exploration, production and stockpiling of critical and strategic minerals and metals has been voted out of the house committee and hearings are being commenced on the senate side. A measure to compensate miners of strategics for losses incurred during wartime production, of which I am the author, is pending on the house calendar and scheduled for consideration by the house this week. A similar bill is also pending on the senate calendar.

A measure on mining assessment work passed the house extending the time for three months and was amended in the senate giving a moratorium for an additional year. We hope to straighten the matter out in a conference committee this week so the mining industry will know whether or not it is going to get an extension of time, a moratorium, or nothing at all.

Public lands legislation: Hearings are in progress this week in the house committee on public lands on legislation calling for in lieu tax payments to local governments for federal ownerships. No action has been taken yet in the senate, although Senator Cordon has indicated that he expects to report his bill relating to percentage payments for lands in national forests very shortly.

Access roads and lumber legislation: The current bill on agricultural appropriations recently voted out by the senate increased the amount of money allowed for forest access roads. However, the total amount is still inadequate even though the conferees agreed to maintain the increased amount provided by the senate. Senator Morse of Oregon and I are joint authors of the measure to appropriate $30,000,000 and hearings will start before the senate committee this week or next.

HOUSE PROGRAM MOVES AHEAD

In summary, the progress made on legislation vital to our area is often very disappointing, but it must be remembered that these measures are in competition for committee time and time on the floor of the house and senate with hundreds of other measures. Up to the present 4,891 bills have been introduced in the house and 1,961 in the senate. Currently, the house is in far better shape on its program than the senate. First matters of course are the appropriations bills. Most of those except deficiency appropriations are already through the house. The senate has only passed two. In addition, we have such pending measures as federal housing, labor law, Marshal plan, federal aid to eduction, social security. In the face of these complicated controversial and highly publicized measures, it is often difficult to get legislation of less national significance but of more interest to us locally before the congress.

Church Notes

Christian Science Church

Christian Science society of Nevada City holds services every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the church on Boulder street.

Sunday school will be at 9:45 a.m.

Testimonial meeting first Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m.

Our reading room is now located in the church edifice, 114 Boulder street and is open Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, holidays exceptel, from 2 to 4 p.m.

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Christian Science lesson-sermon for Sunday, June 5, with the golden text taken from Revelation: "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created" (4.11).

Included in the sermon are the following citations:

The Bible: "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God" (I Corinthians 2:9, 10).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The substance, Life, Intelligence, Truth, and Love, which constitute Deity, are reflected by His creation; and when we subordinate the false testimony of the corporeal senses to the facts of Science, we shall see this true likeness and reflection everywhere" (p. 516).

Nevada County Long Ago

Floy-Margaret Reynolds

20 YEARS AGO

C. E. Clinch and C. Raymond Clinch disposed of all their mercantile business in Grass Valley by selling their grocery store to the Kilpatricks of Chico. The general store interests had previously been sold to the J. C. Penney company. The Clinches retained ownership of the buildings in which the businesses were housed.

Gordon M. Bettles, manager and secretary of the Yellow Tiger Consolidated Mining company, took an option on the Champion mine on Deer Creek below Nevada City.

James Stewart, leading fighter for the resumption of hydraulic mining, was the speaker at the Lions club luncheon at the National hotel.

Bayless Lindley of Nevada City who was to complete his legal training within a year, was spending his summer vacation in the office of District Attorney W. E. Wright.

Bert R. Wilson, principal of the Kelseyville school, was named the new principal of the Nevada City high school to succeed Prof. A. T. Isensee who resigned that he might accept the principalship of the Escalon high school. Gilbert J. Davis was to continue as principal of the old Washington grammar school.

50 YEARS AGO

The Union Ice company and the Nevada City Ice company, competitors for many years, came to an agreement concerning the price of ice. The charge by both companies in the future was to be one cent per pound to saloons and other large consumers and one and a half cents to private families. Not less than ten cents worth was to be sold at one delivery and no deliveries were to be made after 2 p.m. on Sundays.

A committee, consisting of the Hon. J. M. Walling, Mrs. P. F. Simonds and Mrs. Lammon called upon the citizens of Nevada City to solicit funds for the purpose of paying expenses incidental to the public observance of Memorial Day

Carl Brand, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Brand, who was in Europe for a musical education, scored an outstanding success at a musical held in Berlin, Germany. He sang Mendelssohn's aria, Paulus, which brought him three hearty encores.

R. C. Walrath of Nevada City was seriously injured in front of the residence of Joseph Morehouse in Grass Valley to whom he was paying a visit. As he was climbing into his buggy the engine of the narrow gauge whistled and the horse, becoming frightened, wheeled around and knocked Mr. Walrath to the ground. He was returned to his rooms at the National hotel and placed under the care of Dr. Tickell.

75 YEARS AGO

George Jacobs was planning to generally improve the Nevada theater. The interior was to be painted, a new floor was to be laid, and the rooms under the stage were to be neatly fitted up for dressing rooms for the visiting troupes of Thespians.

Director Sigourney of the Nevada City railroad committee announced that the survey party hired by them had arrived in Colfax with their camp equipment and were ready to commence the survey for the railroad bed from that place to Grass Valley and Nevada City.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Narrow Gauge Railway company assessment No. 2 of the ten dollars per share was levied upon the capital stock and was payable immediately in gold coin to George Fletcher, secretary of the company, at his office in Grass Valley.

Four Nevada county young people were scheduled to take part in the commencement exercises at Mills College. They were Lillie W. Johnson and Alice E. Finnie of Grass Valley, Edith White of North San Juan, and Dottie F. Sargent, originally of Nevada City.

GETTING IT RIGHT

The argumentative councilor was on his feet.

"Mr. Chairman," he said. "Counsellor Jenkins says this is a case of six of one and half-a-dozen of the other. But I say not—most emphatically no. It is exactly the contrary."

Mrs. Hazel Estes In Charge of P-TA Meet

May meeting of the Nevada City High School Parent-Teachers association was called to order by Mrs. Hazel Estes, president, Friday at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Estes gave a report on the fiftieth annual convention of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc., held in Los Angeles April 24-25-26-27, and read the following convention resolutions:

"The California Congress of Parents and Teachers is today in a position to speak and to be heard. We have grown in public acceptance and confidence, in steadily strengthened cooperation between educators and parents in learning to use the tools and techniques of democracy for the benefit of all children, everywhere. Thus prepared, and with steadfast purpose, we face our golden opportunity.

1. To work for world understanding.
2. To support child welfare in the community.
3. To promote education.
4. To strengthen home and family life.

"Moral integrity and ethical character in youth are dependent upon the example set by adults. It is, therefore, incumbent upon parents and teachers to exact of themselves the standards of spiritual devotion, democratic principles, law observance and personal honor which they wish to instill in their children."

Awards for juvenile protection, publicity, parent education and membership to the Nevada City High School Parent-Teachers association on work this year from the third district were read by Mrs. Roy Larson, secretary.

VISIT NEW ROAD

ENTHUSIASM UP AS YOUTH BACK RECREATION

Enthusiasm among the youngsters of the community is on the increase as the recreation program started this year by the board of trustees of the Nevada City unified school district slowly begins to take shape.

J. Howard Penrose, president of the board and one of the chief proponents of the recreation program in Nevada City, and Ed Frantz, principal of Nevada City high school, were approached Tuesday evening at the high school by a delegation of youngsters asking for the earliest possible inauguration of the movement.

Penrose told the group action is more or less tabled at the present time until conditions are settled by the current state legislature. Until the legislature adjourns the local school board does not know what financing conditions will prevail for the school district for next year.

Penrose said several applications are before the board for the post of recreation director and it is possible but not probable that a director may be hired at the June 13 meeting of the board of trustees. The successful applicant would have the difficulties of inaugurating a recreation program, the period when a man of the highest qualifications is necessary.

The successful applicant would be in charge of all recreation for the city and would have to be an individual who is well versed in all phases of recreational development.

Two Women Shopping

There were two women, Ida and Millie, talking to each other, in the women's clothes shop.

Millie did not like the dress Ida had picked out.

"Ida, you wouldn't dare wear that dress, would you?"

"Why, I think that dress is darling," said Ida.

"I wouldn't even wear that to a dog fight," said Millie.

Then Ida got angry. "I'm surrised at you, my very best friend!"

They went a little further to the men's shop where Millie saw a tie she liked. She said "I'm going to to buy that for my husband."

Ida said she didn't like it.

Well, that's the way women shop.—by Jean Griggs.

Fishing

Last Saturday and Sunday I went fishing for catfish. I went about 3 o'clock and got home at 7. I was lucky in getting ten catfish.

Then I went to San Juan to the trout farm. They cost 40 cents each. There was a Chinaman who got one hundred forthy and they cost him $56.

I only had enough to get one.

After I got home I saw a friend who told me that he had gone fishing too. He got about fourteen catfish.—Gary Dail Baker.

My Interview

I interviewed Mr. Goerz, whose work is having the orchestra and band in the elementary and high schools.

Mr. Bonner gave us eight questions to ask. Before we went we had to phone asking, "When may I get an interview?"

Mr. Goerz answered, "You may get it tomorrow at noon."

He said he went to three colleges in California.

One of the questions was, "If you could live your life over again, would you choose the same job?"

He said yes.

I asked, "In order to do this work well, what qualifications must one have?"

"One must be very patient and be anxious to have the pupils understand and enjoy their music," he replied.—Betty Lind.

Miss Hogan's Fifth Grade

We have been having movies lately. One was "The Good Earth" a story of a Chinese family. Another was "Strange Sea Creatures" showing sea creatures off the coast of Australia. They were all very good.

Our class made colorful posters advertising the fish derby. Many were placed in the windows of various stores.

Don Lee, in our room, won second prize in the fish derby with a 10½ incher.

Mary Pat Corbell has gone to Montana. She will stay about three weeks.

The boys played St. Mary's Friday afternoon. They lost 7-6.

The Seventh Grade

Last Thursday some of us sang over KGFN. We sang "Camptown Races" and "Hi Ho, Nobody Home."

We are very grateful to the Eighth grade for inviting us to their graduation dance last Friday.

Tuesday we played Grass Valley and the score was Grass Valley 9, Nevada City 7. Our record is now 2 wins, 1 loss. Some of our players played on the 8th grade team.

Mrs. De Mattei's Fourth Grade

Sylvia Barbieri has lost her glasses. She doesn't have any idea where they are. She may have lost them on the street. If anybody has found them will they please return them to the Fourth grade.

We are going to Pioneer park to have our perfect attendance party Wednesday. We expect to pan for gold if the weather is good.

Some of the boys went fishing Memorial day and caught some. However, none of them were lucky enough to be a prize winner.

JUDGE SNELL FINDS HUDSON GUILTY OF CATTLE RUSTLING

Superior Judge James Snell Wednesday adjudged George A. Hudson guilty of grand theft of stealing and butchering a steer owned by Guy Robinson, Indian Springs, April 8 and set Monday as a date of pronouncement of sentence.

Defense Attorney Robert Schiffner had moved for dismissal of the charge on grounds of insufficient evidence. Judge Snell denied the motion.

John R. Dower, Yuba county sheriff, testified Hudson declared at the time of his arrest he had been with his brother all day.

Building Plans Of Memorial Hall Is Discussed at Meeting

Building committe of Veterans of Foreign Wars, designated veterans' agency in Nevada City in construction of a local memorial building, met with Walter Sellon, representing the county architect George C. Sellon and County Clerk Ralph Deeble, to discuss plans for building the memorial building.

The committee recommended type of building to be constructed. The architect submitted a proposed sketch to the county supervisors for further discussion.

Members of the V.F.W. building committee meeting at the court house and later at the site of the proposed hall included Kenneth N. Adams, commander of Banner Mountain Post No. 2655, Joe Day, Jr., Harleth M. Brock, Albert Wharff, Olaf Bjornstal, Bob Paine and Robert Potts.
